

Breakout Sessions 19 June, 2013

Prof Mohammed Arif
Professor of Sustainability and Process Management,
School of the Built Environment
The University of Salford

Breakout Session 1 Salford Lecture Theatre 3

MAIN QUESTION

What are the challenges (financial/technical/other) that offsite solution suppliers face in seeking to win work in the new build homes market? What actions should offsite suppliers take to achieve greater recognition of their solutions within the new build homes market?

ELECTIVE QUESTION

Should Government take action to support the increased use of offsite solutions in new build housing and if so what sort of actions?

Breakout Session 2 Salford Seminar Room 3

MAIN QUESTION

Should Government take action to support the increased use of offsite solutions in new build housing and if so what sort of actions?

ELECTIVE QUESTION

Is it accepted that the use of offsite solutions in the construction of new homes delivers better sustainability outcomes? If so are these better outcomes valued either by the house-building industry or by the industry's customers?

Breakout Session 3 Salford Seminar Room 1

MAIN QUESTION

Is it accepted that the use of offsite solutions in the construction of new homes delivers better sustainability outcomes? If so are these better outcomes valued either by the house-building industry or by the industry's customers?

ELECTIVE QUESTION

Looking forward to the year 2025 do you think that the majority of new homes in England will still be constructed on site using traditional methods or will the majority be assembled from a kit of factory made components. If the latter what factors would have brought about the change?

Breakout Session 4 Salford Seminar Room 2

MAIN QUESTION

Looking forward to the year 2025 do you think that the majority of new homes in England will still be constructed on site using traditional methods or will the majority be assembled from a kit of factory made components. If the latter what factors would have brought about the change?

ELECTIVE QUESTION

What are the challenges (financial/technical/other) that offsite solution suppliers face in seeking to win work in the new build homes market? What actions should offsite suppliers take to achieve greater recognition of their solutions within the new build homes market?

University of Salford MANCHESTER

