

Help make the world better

Get involved in developing standards

By Royal Charter

NAME

bsi.

What are standards?

- Standards define good practice
- Standards help people
- Standards help organizations
- Standards help the economy

Who makes standards?

- Individuals of all ages and backgrounds with relevant knowledge and experience
- Seasoned professionals, industry innovators or those at the vanguard of their field, the change makers
- Nominated representatives of stakeholder organizations such as industry bodies, government, charities and more

Who is BSI?

- A Royal Charter company that is the UK's National Standards Body
- UK member representing UK interests at European and international standards development organizations (e.g. ISO, IEC, CEN-CENELEC, ETSI, etc.)
- World's first national standards body
- Publisher of over 2,500 standards every year

The benefits of being a standards-maker

What you gain as an individual

- Help improve the quality of life and safety for millions of people
- Start to create a better world
- Expand your professional network, technical expertise and soft skills
- Gain recognition and a sense of achievement from making a valuable contribution
- Progress your career

What you gain as an employer

- Insight into and influence over the standards that affect your business
  - Including European and international standards
- An opportunity for development for your colleagues
- Get an insight into the latest technological innovations
- Gain extra credibility with customers and stakeholders

What you gain as a stakeholder organization

- Make sure your stakeholders' views are heard
- Gain insight into what is happening across standards relevant to your stakeholders
- Influence current standards and help define future needs
- Get additional information and support from BSI

How to become a standards-maker

How to become a standards-maker

- If you would like more information or to apply simply contact:
standardsmakers@bsigroup.com
- You can also visit our web page at:
www.bsigroup.com/getinvolved